CONSULTANT, WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

A STRONG WORKFORCE

If you are experiencing high rates of employee turnover, long periods with unfilled vacancies, or an inability to promote from within, not only are you losing money, but you are also squandering the precious commodity we call time.

- Who do you need on board for your organization to thrive?
- What do you need from your employees in order for your company to excel?
- What are you willing to do to hire and retain awesome employees?

If you are ready to build a workplace of qualified employees, a culture of innovative employees, and a team of engaged employees, investments in your people and your community are the answer. Increase upward mobility, talent pipelines, employee engagement, and company brand through workforce development programs.

Give back, do good, and pay it forward – employees want to work for companies with a heart and consumers want to support socially responsible companies. Join the movement.

EXPANSION IS POSSIBLE

Nicki Sanders Leadership Consulting offers program development and management consulting services that positively impact:

- Employee engagement and experience
